How to Participate in the Silent Auction

- Guests are assigned a Bid Number to use during the silent auction. Your Bid Number will be given to you at the Registration Table.

4 John Wooden's "Pyramid of Success"

At the age of 96, living in Encino, California and making 20 to 30 speeches a year, former UCLA coach John Wooden still keeps in touch with more players than he could name in one breath, including Bill Walton, Andy Hill, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Keith Erickson, Keith Wilkes, Mike Warren, Kenny Washington and John Valley. And those are just the ones he has breakfast with on a regular basis. But that only seems natural for a leader whose "Pyramid of Success" includes friendship, loyalty and team spirit as three of its 15 blocks.

Wooden has been called the greatest college coach in history thanks to a long list of accomplishments, including a record 10 NCAA Men's Basketball Championship titles. But for him, it's not about the number of wins and losses: It's about how the game is played.

In fact, his players say they don't recall their coach ever stressing the importance of winning a game. For Wooden, it was about sticking to the fundamentals. "On the first day of practice, I remember him saying, 'I'm not going to be talking to you about winning or losing because I think that's a byproduct of our preparation. I would much rather be focused on the process of becoming the best team we're capable of becoming,'" says John Valley, who played under Wooden on the 1969 and 1970 UCLA national championship basketball teams.

Experience a California resort vacation that is truly incomparable. Native American Indian tribes have referred to Two Bunch Palms Resort & Spa as sacred ground – and for good reason. The natural elements that merge together here don't exist in this form anywhere else on earth. These "two bunches of palms" mark an area that is Nature's Spa. Mineral spring waters enrich the soil and the special array of trees corrals the wind, creating a unique microclimate in the embracing desert air.

From the cradle of time deep within the Coachella Valley desert, nature created one of the hottest artesian mineral wells in the world. These waters of health ascend through the geological fault of Miracle Hill at approximately 148 degrees Fahrenheit, and then flow downward to nurture the oasis that is Two Bunch Palms.

2004 The Judge: "...about as fine a Chardonnay as one is likely to find in the world. The wine, as one might expect, is from the same vineyard and simply the most concentrated barrels of what is already a very concentrated wine. It just has more of everything when compared to the regular 2004 Chardonnay, but I think the most striking thing is that, from what I can tell, he is looking for even more intense minerality in the wine, and this wine certainly offers it in spades...Drink 2006-2016."

2005 The Judge: "...a special cuvee of 15 barrels is an homage to John Kongsgaard's father, who was a judge...flirts with perfection. Incredibly intense flowery notes along with a liqueur of honeysuckle and crushed rocks compete with some tropical fruit, quince, orange, and pineapple characteristics. This intensely full, fresh, lively gorgeous white benefits from 22 months aging in barrel, and bottling off the lees unfiltered...should be uncommonly long-lived by California Chardonnay standards."

2006 The Judge: "...a special cuvee of 15 barrels...exhibits superb acidity, and the same character as the regular cuvee, but with even more concentration, precision, and minerality...one of the vintage's more compelling examples of this varietal...It exhibits more white peach, pineapple, and tropical fruit characteristics as well as a steely minerality, full body, and more power than the regular cuvee."

Wine has been properly stored at a constant 55 degrees and 70% humidity.

An original hand-painted production cel from the longest-running, hit animated television show, THE SIMPSONS. This cel (Serial #E2644) features Homer Simpson as he appeared in episode #AABF02, "D'oh-In The Wind" which originally aired November 15, 1998. In this episode, Homer realizes he never found out what his middle initial "J" stands for. Grampa takes Homer to a farm that used to be a commune where Homer's mother lived. There, Homer finds a mural his mother dedicated to him, with the inscription, "With Love, to My Son Homer Jay Simpson." Inspired by the mural, Homer decides to become a hippie. He befriends two of his mother's old friends, Seth and Munchie. When he asks them to go on a "freak out" with him, they reveal that they now run a juice business from the farm. Accusing them of selling out, Homer convinces them to go freak out "squares" with him.

4000 2009 Honda AquaTrax F-15

Say hello to the all-new F-15. If it looks familiar, well, it should since this three-passenger beauty is the latest member of arguably the most luxurious and performance-packed PWC family on the water today.

Featuring a normally aspirated version of the phenomenal 1470cc fuel-injected and turbocharged four-stroke powerplant introduced last year in the mighty F-15X, the F-15 taps into some serious horsepower and a specially designed hull tuned for superb low- and high-speed maneuverability. In other words, it shreds. And all without sacrificing creature comforts like plush UV-resistant foam seating, ample on-board storage, programmable keyless ignition, and two eye-catching color schemes to choose from. Ruling the waves doesn't get much better than this.

Trailer not included. Choice of color is subject to availability.

5003 "Lotus" 1981 by Supaporn

A watercolor on paper. Image size is 10 x 10 inches; frame size 16.25 x 16.25 (approx.)

This original watercolor by Supaporn captures the flora of the artist's native Thailand. The lotus holds special significance in Asian symbolism. The beauty of its blossom is all the more precious because it emerges from murky waters. The blossom represents purity because it floats on the water's surface, seeming unattached to the muddy earth below. Executed with a skillful hand in vivid colors redolent of Southeast Asia, Supaporn's watercolor is both a beautiful painting and a homage to Eastern cultures.
