#2058 Pride Mountain Vineyards Cabernet Sauvignon 2005, 5-Liter bottle (equal to 6.66 bottles)

“The deep ruby/purple colored 2005 Cabernet Sauvignon (58% from Napa and 42% from Sonoma) possesses a full-bodied mouth feel as well as loads of cassis fruit, and smoky, subtle oak in the background. Round, plump, and hedonistic, it should drink well for a decade” R. Parker 92 points.

The wine values from this auction are from Robert Parker’s survey of retail outlets and auctions.

Donated by Bill and Carol Ouchi

Value: $750 Opening Bid: $350

#2059 Spottswoode Cabernet Sauvignon 2005 (1 Magnum, equal to 2 bottles)

“The utterly profound 2005 Cabernet Sauvignon Estate (95% Cabernet Sauvignon and 5% Cabernet Franc) will benefit from several years of bottle age, and should keep for 25-30 years. This extraordinary effort exhibits notes of blueberries, cassis, spring flowers, licorice, and forest floor. Beautifully pure and full-bodied with excellent overall harmony as well as superb purity, it reveals a Chateau Margaux-like personality.” R. Parker 96 points.

The wine values from this auction are from Robert Parker’s survey of retail outlets and auctions.

Wine reviews:

93 pts Wine & Spirits

From a vineyard at the Keller Estate in the Petaluma Gap, this grows on clay soils on the low hills, somewhat protected from the ocean winds. The wine developed a beautiful fruit character, with mulberry, wild cherry and rose all competing for attention. It's concentrated and lasting, with an edge of red apple-skin acidity. For grilled salmon. -Joshua Greene

93 pts Pinot Report

Medium ruby color; spicy red cherry aromas; rich, ripe red cherry flavors with spice and earthy notes; lush with some tannin and toasty oak; good structure and balance; long finish. A great blend of lush cherry and spice, this Pinot needs time but drinks well now. -Gregory Walter

Donated by Gordon Yamate and Testarossa Winery

#2061 2006 Hagafen Prix Reserve Pinot Noir Fagan Creek Vineyard: Block 38

This reserve bottling once again shocks with its reflection of site-specific character. It presents aromas of smoky bacon, cocoa and roasted espresso beans, complimented by notes of cherry, clove, cinnamon, and anise. Its mouth-filling red and black licorice compliments long-finishing, tannin-wrapped hints of creamy cherry. Dare we say the joie de vivre of Burgundian attitude with the best of New World fruit? Its dark, smoky, and spicy distinctiveness will age for many years to come.

Only 375 cases were produced of this amazing wine!

#2062 A $100 Bristol Farms Gift Card

And, a magnum of 2005 Ravenswood Zinfandel "Belloni"

Be treated to a $100 gift card valid at any Bristol Farm location. Package includes one magnum of 2005 Ravenswood Zinfandel "Belloni"

Winemaker Notes: The 2005 Belloni is characterized by big ripe flavors - a characteristic achieved by the co-fermentation of Zinfandel, Carignane, Petite Sirah and Alicante Bouchet grapes. Seemingly sweet, this wine is actually very round and full with lots of boysenberry, raspberry, and blueberry hints to it. The nice acidity gives the wine a good balance and structure. Enjoy its long, elegant finish which fills the palate beautifully. - Joel Peterson

#3023 "Daytime Mountain" Wall Hanging

Elaine Makino's exquisitely crafted fabric creations remind many of us of our own grandmother's meticulous handiwork. Grandma always seemed to know just how to sew something together so that it "fit just right" and was made "to last a lifetime". And, if Grandma was really talented, her creations were also beautiful to behold.

In an affectionate and "Americanized" tribute to those grandmas, "Basan Creations" ("Grandma" in Japanese) was born. All of their products are sewn with great care and superb workmanship. And best of all, the fabric and design selections reflect an Asian aesthetic with a decidedly American accent. You definitely do not have to be Asian to fall in love with Basan Creations' sense of style!

All of Basan Creations' wall hangings are SHOPAKEMI.COM exclusives. Available in very limited quantities.

And a Three-Night Stay in a Mammoth Condo, July 24-27, 2010

This is a great opportunity for two people to be taught to dry fly fish by an expert! Winners should have some fly fishing experience, as this is not a beginner's lesson.

The lucky winners will have the opportunity to dry fly fish at Hot Creek (located near Mammoth Lakes) on Sunday evening, July 25 and the morning of July 26. Mas Okui has created a unique method of casting and has designed a dozen or so patterns, which more times than not, catch the trout of Hot Creek. Prior to the on-stream experience, two sessions of fly casting will be offered, usually on a Saturday morning at Balboa Park (renamed Bielensen Park) on Balboa off the 101 freeway. Dates to be arranged. At these sessions gear will be inspected, casting techniques honed, and a briefing of what is in store for the Hot Creek experience.

Package includes three nights at the 1849 Condos in Mammoth Lakes, July 24-27, 2010.

#5012 Untitled

by Robert Rauschenberg

An original Robert Rauschenberg silk screen with hand color. Untitled from the Rauschenberg Sculpture series. 34 x 38. Limited edition. Signed by the artist in pencil.

From Columbia Encyclopedia:

Rauschenberg, Robert (rou'shənbûrg'), 1925–2008, American painter, b. Port Arthur, Tex., as Milton Ernest Rauschenberg. He studied at the Kansas City Art Institute, with Josef Albers at Black Mountain College, and at New York's Art Students League. In the late 1950s he came under the influence of Marcel Duchamp. With his friend Jasper Johns, Rauschenberg became a pivotal figure in the emerging pop art movement, and together they were vital to initiating a new era of experimentation in American art. A constant innovator and improviser, Rauschenberg moved from style to style and medium to medium, blurring the lines between painting, sculpture, photography, printmaking, and even performance and dance.

Rauschenberg's enormously inventive paintings, some of which incorporate silkscreen, include everyday images and objects and are executed in a loose, spontaneous style. He also experimented extensively with assemblage. Gloria (1956; Cleveland Mus. of Art), Canyon (1959), Summer Rental III (1960; Whitney Mus., New York City), and the famous Monogram (1959; Moderna Museet, Stockholm), which incorporates a whole stuffed Angora goat encircled by an automobile tire, are characteristic of the three-dimensional collages, known as combines, which he created from 1954 to 1964. Major works of the 1980s and 90s are mainly large constructions. Rauschenberg began using photographs in the 1950s, but photographic images are particularly prevalent in his later works, as in the massive Scenarios paintings of the early 2000s, which also make use of computers and digital printers. One of contemporary American art's most prolific and influential figures, he also collaborated with artists in other fields, such as composer John Cage and choreographers Merce Cunningham, Paul Taylor, and Trisha Brown.
