

JAPANESE AMERICAN NATIONAL MUSEUM

JOIN US at our 2014 Gala Dinner for an evening of remembrance, reflection, and celebration as we explore how sports evolved through generations of Japanese Americans to become a significant part of the larger cultural fabric of America. We will celebrate athletes and sports personalities who not only made an impact at the highest levels of competition but helped forge enduring bonds—from the Nisei who sought normalcy playing football, baseball, and basketball during the dark days of World War II to the phenomenal growth of Japanese American sports leagues after the war.

Toyota (NYSE:TM), the world's top automaker and creator of the Prius, is committed to building vehicles for the way people live through their Toyota, Lexus, and Scion brands. Over the past 50 years, they've built more than 25 million cars and trucks in North America, where they operate 14 manufacturing plants and directly employ nearly 40,000 people. Their 1,800 North American dealerships sold more than 2.5 million cars and trucks in 2013—and about 80 percent of all Toyota vehicles sold over the past 20 years are still on the road today.

Toyota partners with philanthropic organizations across the country, with a focus on education, safety and the environment. As part of this commitment, they share the company's extensive know-how garnered from building great cars and trucks to help community organizations and other nonprofits expand their ability to do good.
