Special Thanks

Once you join others, even though at first your mission fails, you become a different person, a much stronger one. You feel that you really count, you discover your strength as an individual because you have along the way discovered others share in what you believe, you are not alone; and thus a community is formed. ... So, my credo consists of the pursuit and the act. One without the other is self-indulgence.

—Studs Terkel, Forward to This I Believe: The Personal Philosophies of Remarkable Men and Women, 2006

The Enduring Communities project and this curriculum were made possible through the contributions of many people from across the nation over the span of four years.
